

John J. Hare, Esq.

John is a shareholder and appellate chair at Marshall Dennehey, where he oversees appellate attorneys who serve the Firm's nineteen offices in seven states. He is a Fellow of the American Academy of Appellate Lawyers and serves by appointment of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania as co-chair of the Court's Historical Commission and as a member of the Commission on Judicial Independence. He also formerly served as chair of the Supreme Court's Civil Procedural Rules Committee, a member of the Supreme Court's Tricentennial Commission, and a member of the Board of Governors of the Bar Association of the Third Federal Circuit. John has edited and co-authored two books on Pennsylvania appellate courts. The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania; Life and Law in the Commonwealth, 1684-2017, was published by the Pennsylvania State University Press in 2018. Keystone of Justice: The Pennsylvania Superior Court, 1895-1995, was published by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in 2000. He received his B.A. from Indiana University of Pennsylvania and his J.D. from Duquesne University.